

ROMANIAN REVIEW OF YOUNG RESEARCHERS

CALL FOR PAPERS

ISSUE NO. 7/ VOL. II

OCTOBER, 2022

The Romanian Review of Young Researchers (RRYR) is an international, scholarly, peer-reviewed quarterly interdisciplinary journal, edited by the Romanian Association of Young Scholars (RAYS).

RRYR was created as a liberal, open access platform that would enable young scholars to publish the results of their research and to obtain feed-back from peers. The Romanian Review of Young Researchers is keen on publishing the work of PhD. and MA students and to promote the academic interests of young researchers. The aim of this journal is to provide an intellectual platform for young researchers (MA-PhD. students), while at the same time promoting interdisciplinary studies.

We invite young scholars to submit research papers, articles, case studies and book reviews for the summer issue of the Romanian Review of Young Researchers (RRYR) journal. RRYR accepts both quantitative and qualitative studies, particularly those that focus on an interdisciplinary approach - on topics pertaining to fields of study such as:

- Anthropology
- Area studies
- Cultural and Ethnic studies
- Communication studies
- Economics
- Education
- Ethics
- Gender studies
- Geography
- Geopolitics
- Globalization
- History
- Law
- Linguistics
- International Relations
- Political Science
- Philosophy
- Psychology
- Public Administration
- Sociology
- Religion

All articles submitted for the Romanian Review of Young Researchers are subjected to an initial editor screening and then to a blind, double peer review process – and as such – should meet the standards of scientific significance, originality, clarity and academic rigor. Submission of an article implies that it is the author's own original work and that it has not been submitted for review at another publication. Finally, all submissions which are not following the required format (as presented in the Author's Guidelines section) will be returned to the authors for modification.

RRYR publishes papers both in English and in Romanian. However, the abstract must be, either case, written in English. An article/ research paper/ case study should be no longer than 15 pages, while a book review should have 3-5 pages. The general guidelines require a TNR, size 12, 1.5 spacing format. For further instructions, see the Author's Guidelines.

Please submit your paper at rryr@rays.org.ro by August, 31st 2022. For more information, please visit www.rays.org.ro/rryr.